URBAN RESILIENCE

Is the capacity of individuals, communities, institutions, businesses, and systems within a city to survive, adapt, and grow no matter what kinds of chronic stresses and acute shocks they experience.

100RC partners with cities around the world to help them become more resilient to the social, economic and physical challenges that are a growing part of the 21st century.

Member Cities

Following a highly competitive application process (1,000+ applications), 100RC selected a first group of cities in December 2013, announced the second in December 2014, and the third in May 2016

100RC AIMS TO SOLVE TWO PROBLEMS:

1. Cities are complex, siloed ecosystems
2. Existing solutions do not scale or reach cities efficiently

100RC provides cities 4 types of support to address these problems

TO HELP COMPLEX URBAN SYSTEMS
ORGANIZE AND INTEGRATE AROUND RESILIENCE

TO SCALE SOLUTIONS
EFFICIENTLY

1. Funding to hire a
Chief Resilience Officer (CRO)

2. Support to Develop a City
Resilience Strategy

3. A Platform of Services to support strategy
implementation

4. Membership in the 100RC Network

Who is the Chief Resilience Officer?

The CRO is a catalytic force, transforming the way cities organize themselves to better meet the challenges of building resilience in the 21st century. The CRO will lead the city's resilience building efforts, including:

Working across silos to create and implement a resilience strategy

Serving as a senior advisor to the Mayor or municipal leader

Promoting resilience thinking, and acting as both a local and global thought leader

Coordinating resilience efforts across government and multi-sector stakeholders

Liaising with other CROs, 100RC staff, and service providers via the network and platform
